Ontario Chamber Still City's Publicity Agent Given $500 For Exhibit

Lawsuits or no, Ontario's Chamber of Commerce will still act as the city's advertising agent in particular cases.

Last night the city council authorized the chamber to use $500 of city funds in preparing an exhibit for the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona.

Last night's action was the first time that city funds have been placed at the chamber's disposal since two lawsuits, charging misuse of city funds, were filed against the city.

McQUATTERS DISSENTS

The lawsuits, filed by Walter Axley of the Daily Report, charge that the chamber has been using city funds illegally and ask the return of all the money used in advertising projects.

The suits are now awaiting trial in San Bernardino Superior Court. No court action is contemplated until early next year.

Councilman G. E. McQuatters was the lone dissenter when the council voted appropriation of the funds.

AMPLE PRECEDENT

"We're already in hot water," McQuatters said, "and I believe that we should wait until we know whether we are acting legally."

Other council members pointed out that there is ample legal precedent for such use of public funds.

Several of the members, notably Oregon Smith, were of the opinion that any delay in allocation of funds would be playing into the hands of factions opposing the chamber of commerce.

In the end the councilmen went ahead and allocated the money out of its advertising budget.

FAIR EXHIBIT

Plans for the Los Angeles County Fair exhibit are still in the drawing board stage, Doris McFerran, chamber secretary, said today.

"We can now give full attention to the project," she said, "now that we know where we stand financially."

The city's industrial development at Ontario International Airport also came up at last night's meeting.

After a lengthy discussion the city's airport committee was merged with the council industrial committee to form a new "airport industry committee."

The action was taken at the request of Mayor Roy D. Boles through means of a letter.

SUGGESTS CONSOLIDATION

In his letter, Boles suggested the consolidation of the two committees to prevent duplication of effort.

Joe Aime, acting as mayor in Bole's absence, explained the mayor's viewpoint.

"In many respects our airport operations are nothing but industry, and in the past our industrial committee has been dickering with a firm wishing to use our facilities and at the same time the airport committee has been carrying on separate negotiations with the same outfit.

ODDS ON MANNER

Councilmen were in general agreement that the consolidation should be accomplished, but were at odds on the right manner.

Miller Dietz made a motion that an industrial commission be set up with power to act on behalf of the city. Other councilmen objected because such action would require passage of an ordinance and take too much time to get into operation.

Oregon Smith proposed that the industrial committee members serve on the airport committee.

Dietz immediately opposed this compromise. "We've got other business interests besides those at the airport, and I feel that this committee should be set up to handle all city industry."

Smith objected vociferously, "I don't like government in business and thats what I'm afraid this will sound like if we call it the industrial committee," said Smith.

In the end Councilman McQuatters made a motion for the formation of an airport industry committee and the measure passed over the negative vote of Smith.

Heat Soars to 105 in Ontario

Was it hot — brother — you should have been up on the roof of the Ontario fire station — only 105 at 12:30.

As we continue our safari northward along Euclid avenue stopping at the Upland's Santa Fe where it was an even 100, we begin to gaze fondly into the mountains.

Up at the State Forestry station on San Antonio Heights it dropped to 102. You could "see all the way to Corona" at 12:45 and the low humidity had the rangers on alert. Even the fine visibility was no offset for some of the "roughest fire weather" so far this year.

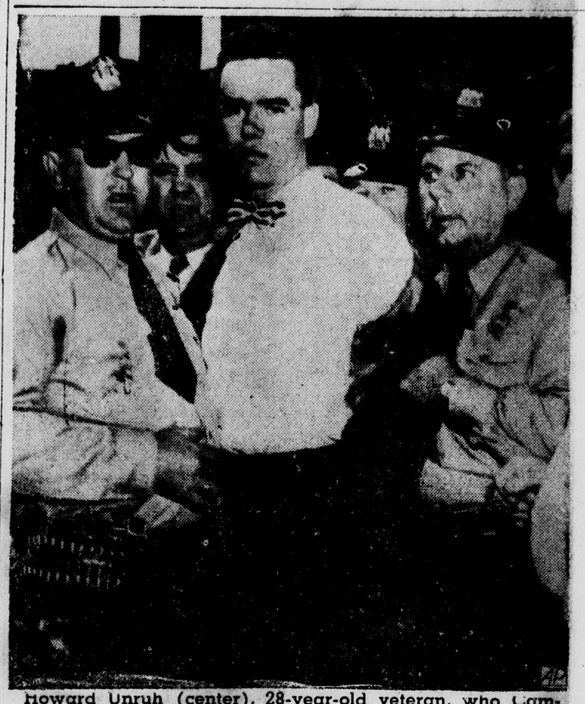

Even higher up in the hills at Camp Baldy Ranger station it was 92 degrees at 12:50 although the thermometer had dropped 2 degrees in an hour.

All Southern California was sizzling today as the temperature blew its top in Los Angeles at 101 degrees. Three deaths had been reported by 1 p.m.

Upland Man Waits Smuggling Trial

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Urgano P. Olmos, 32, of Fresno, and Frank Torres Montes, 36, of Upland, were free on bond today pending action on a federal charge of smuggling 12 Mexican aliens.

The pair waived a hearing before U. S. Commissioner George R. Baird, who set bail at $1,000 each. The U. S. attorney's office said it may be as long as three weeks before they are called into court.

Announce Drive to Make Upland Streets Safe for School Days

Upland's Safety Council announces a drive to make the streets safe for school children when they start the fall session Monday.

A team of speakers will visit local civic organizations, clubs and churches, calling attention to child safety.

Among the members of the council spreading the safety message will be William Amberson, Taz Cochran, Lewis Moore, Glenn Goforth, John S. Diffenbaugh, Earl Head, Rev. W. H. Burton and Capt. Ralph Palmer.

School Problem

The new school year also brought another problem before the safety council at its meeting last night. Upland College representatives asked the group to study ways and means of protecting pedestrians on Arrow highway, from Upland College to Euclid avenue. The request was passed on to the engineering committee, along with a proposal to paint signs on Foothill boulevard pavement, east of Euclid, calling attention to the signals.

The engineering committee will also study a plan to move the sign at 16th and Mountain eastward 200 yards.

Decorate Bikes

Hot rods, speed of Greyhound buses and uniforms for school crossing guards were discussed and referred to the enforcement committee.

The education committee will study a proposal to decorate bicycles with luminous tape. The Redlands Optimist Club recently bought tape for all bicycles in its city.

Col. D. J. Rutherford, chairman of the council, announced that there were no accidents over the Labor Day week-end in Upland.

He paid special tribute to the careful driving, and the care and instruction on the part of the Upland traffic squad. Fifty citations were given careless and negligent drivers.

Five Citations

One driver, cited at Foothill and Euclid, was found to be driving on a temporary license. He had been cited five times during the week.

"This clearly illustrates the need for stricter examinations on the part of those issuing licenses," said Col. Rutherford.

Other action by the safety council at its meeting, included: Directed the secretary to frame a resolution asking the state assembly to conform with the national code regarding licensing drivers.

Studied plan asking merchants to distribute safety literature with bills. Each piece of literature would contain a safety slogan. Some of the slogans would contain misspelled words. Persons finding these errors would receive prizes.

Upland Moves To Up Curfew To 10 O'Clock

Curfew shall not ring out until 10 o'clock for Upland youngsters 18 years old and younger.

Upland City Council listened to the first reading of Ordinance 404 yesterday afternoon at a special adjourned meeting.

Ordinance 404, providing for a curfew for all persons under the age of 18, was read. The present 8 o'clock deadline had been extended to 10 o'clock under the new ordinance.

Ordinance 405, amending Ordinance 375, known as the "Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance of the City of Upland," was given a first reading by the city clerk.

Another, Ordinance 406, which would amend Ordinance 368, known as the "Building Set-Back Ordinance," was read. Ordinance 406 would permit a set-back of 16 feet on certain sections of Arrow highway. Much of Arrow highway is now under Ordinance 368, which calls for a 25-foot setback.

Council action is being taken in line with a planning commission recommendation for future widening of Arrow highway into a major thoroughfare.

(See Page 2 for further council actions last night, including Carlton Builders' protest against reducing the units in their proposed subdivision.)

Rent Control Slips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rent controls in all or parts of 14 areas were ended today by housing expediter Tighe E. Woods.

The action applied to:

California—Riverside county except townships 2 and 3 south, range 3, 4 and 4 west, San Bernardino meridian.

Water District Petitions Now Being Circulated by Cities

A petition calling for formation of a Chino basin water conservation district began circulating in Upland and Ontario today.

Upland residents were signing today as they paid their water bills at the city hall.

Ontario's water district petitions will be circulated through the city's service clubs.

The Ontario city council last night turned distribution of the petitions to G. E. McQuatters, head of the newly formed water conservation committee.

The county board of supervisors is asked to set an election for a vote upon formation of a water conservation district.

The petition is a direct action in answer to Orange county's now postponed decision to tap the Prado dam water basin for 10,000 acre feet a year.

C. Donald Adams, manager of San Antonio Water company, mailed out the petitions yesterday to the city councils of Upland, Ontario, and Chino.

Will Levy Tax

A tax of two or three cents will be levied on each $100 of assessed valuation under the conservation district to pay the cost of legal or other procedures necessary to protect the water rights of the district.

Although the new conservation district does practically the same work planned under the Chino Basin Protective association, it is a new organization, according to Upland City Manager Richard G. Manley.

Protect Water Rights

Only basin portions of San Bernardino county are included on the map accompanying the petition. Los Angeles and Riverside counties are behind on their organizational plans and must draw up their own organization.

Actual purpose stated on the petition is to "protect the water rights of the Chino Basin and prevent the unlawful extraction or exportation of water."

Ground work of petition preparation was done by the county flood control bureau, the county counsel, flood control engineers, and the county board of supervisors.

Too Many Students At Chaffey H.S.; Pupils Face Double Sessions

Begin Talks to Save Britain From Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and Canada began momentous talks today on the financial disaster which threatens Britain.

Top foreign policy and economic chiefs of the three nations met in a walnut-panelled room at the State Department. Seated in leather-backed arm chairs, they grouped about a 20-foot glass-topped table.

Before they closed the doors, they permitted newsreel cameramen to record the opening, welcoming remarks.

The chiefs of all three delegations spoke hopefully of helpful and constructive results, but all shied away from forecasts of any specific actions.

Must Harmonize

Foreign Minister Bevin of Britain said the United States, Britain and Canada must "harmonize all our political, our financial and economic action." That is necessary, he said, to lay "the correct foundation for the future peace of the world." Hhe called Britain's difficulties "the inevitable aftermath of two world wars."

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, presiding, said he felt "we can find some ground on which to work out the problems."

The American and Canadian delegations, holding their own idea in reserve, look to Bevin to take the lead in making proposals for action. Bevin was reported armed with a number of what his aides called "suggestions."

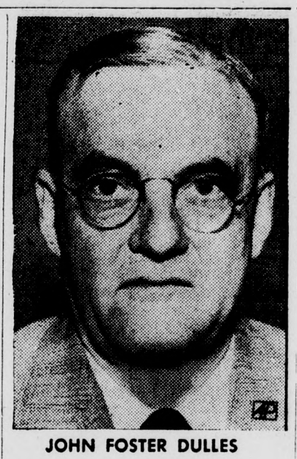

General Electric Rehires Workers

An improved electric flat iron market has reflected into the West End with General Electric planning to rehire 65 workers this month.

Recent improvements in the national market has made it possible for the Ontario G. E. plant to make plans for increasing production on some of the present models, according to W. H. Tangeman, plant manager.

In order to take care of the increase in production, G. E. will call back the 65 workers, Tangeman said.

This total is over and above the 15 workers rehired during August as the plant began to reopen after the summer vacation layoff.

JOHN FOSTER DULLES

Foster Dulles Accept Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Foster Dulles, a Republican who has worked with the Truman administration in the field of foreign policy, let fly a blast at "stateism" today as he bid for retention of his seat in the United States senate.

Dulles, saying he would "gladly accept" the Republican nomination to run for the senate in this fall's special New York election, said "there is danger within."

"I believe that the trend to stateism needs to be stopped now and here."

His 'acceptance" bid was contained in a statement saying he opposed proposals which exault the state at the expense of the individual.' It said he opposed such whether they carried "the label of 'dictatorship of the proletariat' or the 'welfare state' or the 'fair deal.' "

"I know that the present trend, unless stopped, will be for everyone a bad deal," Dulles said.

In deciding to run for the senate Dulles said he had withdrawn his name for appointment of a United Nations delegate.

Seventh West End Polio Case

Polio struck again yesterday in the West End when 16-year-old John Lundy, 823 Fourth avenue, Upland, was admitted to San Bernardino county hospital polio ward.

Lundy is not on the critical list, although there is no question that he is a definite polio case, according to Dr. Virgil Pinkley, county hospital superintendent.

The new West End victim is the seventh polio case from this district during the current summer epidemic. He injured himself during a wrestling match several days ago.

Leg and neck injuries suffered in the wrestling match are improving but have complicated hospital treatment of the polio, according to Dr. Pinkley.

Only four cases are undergoing treatment in the polio ward at present. A two-year-old boy from San Bernardino, a four-year-old from Needles now being treated in an iron lung, and a ten-year-old from Crestline are in the county hospital, said Dr. Pinkley.

2,880 Students Overcrowd School for the First Time

Chaffey high schools will be going to school in shifts the coming year.

For the first time in history enrollment at Chaffey high school will overflow the school's capacity.

Last year basement rooms were done over to serve as stop gap classrooms to postpone establishment of double sessions.

In their efforts to put off institution of two daily classroom sessions the board kept substandard condemned buildings in use until completion of the new building now under construction.

But enrollment kept on growing until the school board could no longer postpone the two-shift sessions.

New Plan

Here is how the new plan will work out, according to report submitted by the Chaffey board at its meeting last night.

"The actual enrollment for the current year, as of September 1, 1949, was 2,880 students. The principal of our one-year branch high school in Upland states that where there were one hundred ninth grade pupils last year there will be 130 this year.

"At the time of the bond election the total high-school population for 1949-1950 was estimated to be 2,850.

Overlapping Sessions

"After considerable study and manuvering, the administration of the high schohol has worked out a plan of overlapping sessions. This plan is perhaps the simplest form of double sessions, and as such the least objectionable. Although the plan will inconvenience some people, all are asked to cooperate until such time as expansion may relieve the overload.

"The plan of overlapping sessions is outlined briefly as follows:

"Most of the student population will come to school at 8 a.m. and be out of school at 2:45 p.m.

"Those travelling on buses from a certain specified zone will start school at 9 a.m. and be out of school at 3:45 p.m.

Can Choose

"Students from the 9 a.m. zone who do not travel on the buses have had the privilege of choosing between going to school at 8 a.m. or 9 a.m. Another year all of the area will probably be required to come at the later hour.

"The 9 a.m. bus zone is all of the Chaffey District located south of Fourth Street from the Los Angeles County line to the Fontana Elementary District.

"Those students who are scheduled for the 9 a.m. classes have been mailed cards of notification.

"It is estimated that about four hundred students will attend during the later period.

"Those who find the above arrangement to their displeasure are asked to consider the following advantages offered by the plan:

Lack Facilities

"Lacking adequate facilities, the school board and administration have selected that plan which is the least undesirable.

The plan permits the double use of transportation facilities. The same buses will be used at 8 a.m., 9 a.m. and again at 2:45 p.m. and 3:45 p.m.

"The overlapping session permits the use of classrooms during the extra period; thus increasing the classroom capacity of the school

"The overlapping session postpones the time when it may be necessary to go into complete double sessions which allow children just one-half day of schooling.

"The probable situation of more high-school students that facilities was called to the attention of the voters this past school year. Since the bond election met with disfavor, no solution to the expansion problem has been selected.

"However, the Board of Trustees again confronted with the need of a well-planned expansion program, delegated the responsibility to the expansion committee. This committee has been meeting with th architect and the Fontana Advisory group. The purpose of the meeting was to develop a master plan for a Fontana high school.

"The next meeting of the combined groups will be Friday, September 16, at 2 p. m., in the superintendent's office. At that time a more mature plan will be submitted. As and when they agree on the plan, it will be submitted to the board of trustees. The time will probably be this fall."

Carlton Builders Win Plea for Delay on Plan to Cut Subdivision

Carlton Builders appeared at Upland City council's special meeting yesterday afternoon and talked them into continuing the session until September 8 and hear their plea for another consideration of their 87-unit subdivision plans.

A combination bid of $11,182 for construction of a pump house and a reservoir was also awarded to two construction firms. This was the original reason for calling yesterday afternoon's meeting.

Carlton Builders appeared and requested the council to reconsider the recent decision of the planning commission whittling down their new addition planned for Campus Gardens.

PLEAD EXPENSE

Pleading great expense and time spent because of tentative approval given by the council, Harold Hirsch, Carlton Builders representative, asked the council to reconsider their recent decision which would force the builders to include 20 foot alleys and 66 foot streets. By requiring the builders to conform to existing building rules, 15 houses would be cut from their master plan of 87.

The council decided to continue their adjourned meeting on over to Thursday night. Carlton Builders will appear at that time and plead their case before both the city council and the planning commission.

AWARD MADE

Award for construction of a pump house and reservoir for Well No. 8 at Benson and Ninth streets was given to a combination firm. A $3,993 Ritchea company, Upland. Hanawalt Construction company, Claremont, was given the reservoir contract award valued at $7,189.

VFW Hits Race Ban on Homes

Upland's Veterans of Foreign Wars last night struck out against racial discrimination.

The post voted to recruit aid of civic organizations in asking the Upland city council to withhold approval of proposed tract of 87 homes until Carlton Builders drop restrictive selling on a racial basis.

The post took its action last night following refusal of Carlton Builders to sell homes in its Campus Gardens subdivision to two Spanish-American veterans.

LETTERS AUTHORIZED

The post secretary has been authorized to write letters to all Upland civic organizations asking them to request that the city of Upland uphold all building requirements of the new subdivision and change its "Anglo-Saxons only" sales policy."

Orange County In Water Truce

Orange counnty has agreed to a truce in the bitter Prado Basin water controversy.

Joe Ogle, Orange county counsel, said last night that Orange county "will not take a drop of water from Prado marshlands until this thing is settled."

However, Ogle said, Orange County is still going ahead with the laying of its 700 feet of pipeline because contracts are already let and have to be fulfilled.

COURT FIGHT

Ogle gave fair warning also that Orange county still plans to tap the Prado Basin even if it means a court fight.

West End Water Shortage Pops Up In Ontario Council Annex Petition

The West End water shortage seems to be everywhere at once.

Last night it popped up at the Ontario city council meeting again.

This time in connection with an annexation project—that of the area bounded by Dessau and Peach streets southeast of the city limits.

Attornney Stanford Shaw showed up at the final annexation hearing to present a protest petition signed by 46 of the 72 property owners in the area.

PROPOSAL DEAD

The state law provides that an annexation proposal must play dead for a year if more than 50 per cent of property owners protest.

So Shaw's petition will kill the project if all signatures stand up under scrutiny.

City Attorney Henry M. Busch, looked over Shaw's document and found that several signatures were identical with those on petitions supporting the annexation.

Shaw explained that his clients had experienced a change of heart since signing the first petition and now didn't want to be included in the city limits.

DETERMINE VALIDITY

The petition was turned over to the city attorney for a check to determine validity of the signatures.

It was then that the water question popped up.

Don Curson, 936 South Grove avenue, rose from the audience to declare that the annexation was a necessity for residents of the disputed area because of the water shortage.

"We can't get any water down there" Curson said, "our only hope is to get into the city and tap city water mains. Our chief opposition comes from three or four businessmen who already have city water and don't want to pay the higher taxes.

NO WATER

"There are nights when we can't get any water for 24 hours or more. We turn on the faucets and all we get is air. Out water supplyer has told us that all water will be cut off soon because the well is going dry."

Curson charged further that most of the duplicate signers of Shaw's petition still wanted to annex to the city but had been deluded by promises that other means of obtaining water would soon be found.

"There are five homes where I live," Curson said, "which are serviced by one little three-quarter inch pipe. We just can't get the pressure to even fill our bathtubs."

POINT OF LAW

City councilmen lent a sympathetic ear but told Curson that it was not a matter of need but a point of law which must be considered.

If the majority of property owners want to come in an election will be held and they can enter the city.

If the petition submitted by Shaw stands up under survey by Busch, the whole matter has to lay quiet for another year.

Subscriber Wins In Treasure Chest

This week's Treasure Chest winner, Adda M. Manker, 603 North Second avenue, Upland, is $5 richer because she was also a subscriber of the Daily News-Herald.

Mrs. Manker had no sales slips, so she received $2.50 plus another $2.50 for being a subscriber. If Mrs Manker had been in possession of a $1 sales slip from one of the firms advertising the Treasure Chest page, she would have received $25.

Freeway Fence Removal Sought

Circulation of the petitions asking removal of the Mission Freeway fence began yesterday. When completed they will be submitted to the Ontario city council.

The petitions ask that the city council request the California State Highway commission to remove the high wire fences.

Petitioners claim that removal of the fences would result in greater development of the area which result in higher property values and a greater tax return to the city.

Also the petition charges that installation of fences was unfair and discriminatory because no other portion of the highway is set off by fences in other residential and business areas—such as those of Pomona and West Riverside.

Two Ontario businessmen are busy circulating petitions asking removal of the fence because it is discriminatory in nature and prevents development of property adjacent to the freeway.

Gwyn H. Young, USN, 1113 South Vine street, Ontario, was promoted to aviation storekeeper, third class, while serving with the Commanding Officer of Composite Squadron 3, based at the Naval Air Station, San Diego, Calif.

Army Schools Open to Local Guard Recruits

Army schools are open to Ontario National Guardsmen on the same basis as to regular servicemen. The courses run from several weeks to nine months, Lt. Dick Klenhard, 224th Regimental recruiting officer announced today.

Most of the courses taken by guardsmen in the service schools to prepare them for their military specialty also are directly applicable to their civilian work. In addition, during periods of unemployment, they offer our members an opportunity to receive the same pay and allowances as do regular Army personnel.

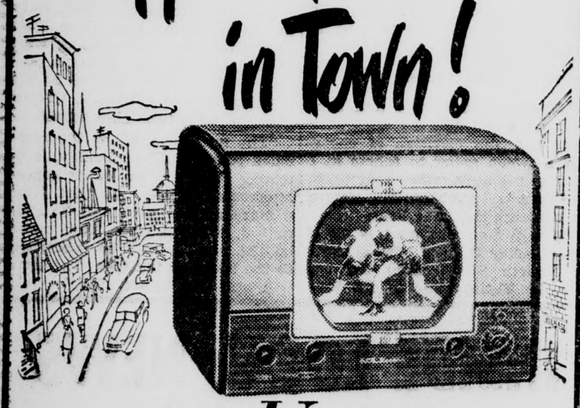

The scope of specialist training open to West End guardsmen is aptly illustrated by some of the courses taken this year. They include radar electronics, personnel management, basic and advanced finance, medical equipment maintenance, communications, intelligence, motion picture cameramen, public relations, athletic directors and instructors, dental technicians, X-ray procedure, and medical laboratory technicians to name a few.

Among service schools open to Ontario guardsmen are the command and general staff school, Fort Leavenworth, Kan.; the infantry school, Fort Benning, Ga.; signal corps school, Fort Monmouth, N. J.; medical school, Fort Sam Houston, Tex., and others.

Last year more than 6,500 National Guardsmen, including many men from the headquarters, service, and medical companies in Ontario and Upland, took specialized courses at regular service schools.

Men interested in joining the guard and taking advantage of these schools should contact Lt. Klenhard any Tuesday evening between 6:30 and 10 at the recruiting unit, basement, Chaffey High school, or phone Sgt. Dunbar W. Smith, daily, 8 to 5, at 625-133.

Well-Teamed Fall Separates Classics in Blending Colors

Honors go to the girl who chooses well when she buys her school or work-a-day wardrobe for fall. Never have there been so many really good separates, pieces that can be mixed into many costumes if they are selected carefully. One good skirt plus two or three toppers can be a dress, a suit and a sports costume—it may even be a date dress if you plan well.

Among the designers who are marking smart and versatile separates is Stephanie Koret of California, who plans them for both type and color. She uses the entire range of fashionable daytime fabrics from flannel to velveteen, and she makes pieces that are both tailored and soft. Her colors are deeper this fall—good colors to blend rather than to contrast sharply.

Skirts are interesting because of their different pocket treatments, their details such as fly front or inset pleats, and they are full or slim. Her pleated skirts with their "perma-pleet" process should be as popular as ever, and they come in fabrics such as gabardine, suitings and wool or worsted jersey.

There are slacks of the same fabrics, if you want them, and there are literally dozens of jackets, skirts and other toppers. Especially good for general day wear are soft jersey blouses which, when teamed to matching skirts, look like a one-piece dress. Lumber jacket styles go well with tweed or plaid wool skirts, cardigans and reefers are available and corduroy and velveteen are both used for pieces that can double for casual and dressier wear. There are vestees, plaid shirts and tailored jackets to complete the selection.

Visualize a complete wardrobe before you buy, or fit pieces into the color scheme that you have already. Because there are plenty of pieces in beige, gray or navy you will find it easy to work out combinations of neutrals with stronger tones of greens and reds and few accents such as lime or mauve. The variations are endless, and the pieces are all moderately priced for college or career girls and for young married women who do not want to spend a small fortune on clothes.

EDITORIAL

(Editor's Note: The following editorial is an outside editor's comment on the feud between Mrs. Doris McFerran, Ontario, Chamber of Commerce manager, and the publisher of the other Ontario newspaper. It is reprinted from the San Dimas Press. Tomorrow this newspaper will publish in full the letter from the Daily Report publisher to the editor of the Press threatening him with a libel suit for the editorial).

JEALOUSY

Jealousy might be next to liquor as the basis for the most crimes in this country. It has been initiated into a combination which has been taken to court to separate funds and property from use by the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, so I am informed.

A feud has been in existence for some time past between the lady publisher of the daily newspaper and the lady secretary and manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Both are quite successful, so I understand, in their own line of work but, it seems the publisher has not been so successful in dictating to the C. of C. lady and/or the board of directors, so she has started action in court.

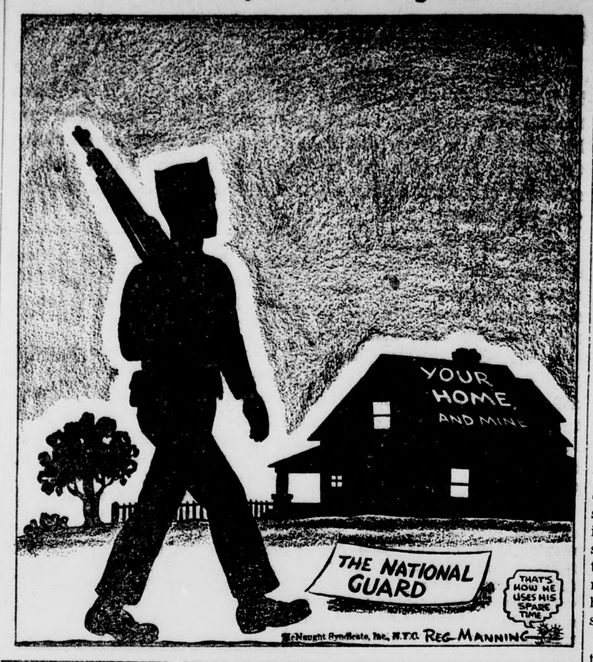

It seems the lady of the press filed a petition with the city council asking that funds and housing facilities furnished to the chamber, be discontinued. The petition was based on the claim that the business and effort of a Chamber of Commerce is to increase the business of merchants and is not the business of the city as a whole. The city council turned down the request. Now the lady publisher has taken the matter to court.

I have seen considerable editorial comment on the case but only in one instance have I seen any favorable comment for the court action. Bob Young, editor of the San Gabriel Sun, seems to agree with the Ontario publisher.

To be successful any Chamber of Commerce must keep its program geared to and for the interest of its entire community. Quite naturally most of its visible work is among and with the merchants. They compose the section of the city or community which keeps the entire community program clicking.

This Ontario feud has been amusing to many for some time past. When it comes to a point where an effort is being made to establish court precedence against a program which has practically built Southern California, it is time something should be done about this enemy—jealousy. Perhaps the court will do just that.

NEW YORK—I don't know how you feel about the American Medical Association, but the boys have rendered me such aid and comfort that I am forced to send them a Valentine, out of season though it be.

Your correspondent is one of those lads whose fur-piece is slipping badly. Each year, the forehead slides up another inch. Each year, the sun beats more painfully on the bald spot on the back of the head. About the only place the hair still grows profusely is on the nape of the neck. This created, for a time, a sense of panic and certain frantic efforts to preserve whatever fluff was noncroded from the skull.

There were the usual ointments and unguents, and, Lord save us all, at one time there was even a brief experiment with garlic, on the advice of some lady who recommended that a spud of that halitoxic herb rubbed on the scalp would frighten the hair into regrowth. No more, though, bub. The AMA has forever delivered me from dull care about hair.

* * *

A committee has announced that there is just nothing you can do about being bald, and furthermore, nobody even knows what causes dandruff. Committee says: "Neither massage, mechanical devices, hormones, vitamins or any other treatment will regenerate hair lost in ordinary baldness."

The committee says that self-designated scalp specialists, or trichologists, are merely whistling "Dixie" when they issue prescriptions for the regrowth of dear, departed tresses, which pleases me no end. I used to worry so hard about not buying all the suggested nostrums, that I'm convinced the fretting shoved by hairline back another inch.

Now that I know there's nothing I can do to repopulate my pate with lush locks, I suddenly have an entirely new feeling about hair, or the lack of it. Who needs it? What's so special about hair?

* * *

Millions of men shave it off their faces daily, and people who allow it to flourish thereon are subject to shrill cries of "beaver!" when they stride the public streets. Ladies shave it from their legs. Undue hair on the manly chest is regarded as unseemly, by some. Among the lower orders of modern man, such as the Australian Aboriginal, the hair sprouts so profusely on the beetling brow that the Abbe seems to be peering through a saltbush. Gorillas are hairy. Whoever saw a bald gorilla?

Among our ladies fair, the smooth, pink skin of the face is greatly admired, and millions are spent, annually, to keep that skin soft, glowing and blemish-free. I see nothing unbeautiful about a full, glowing head of skin on a man. This is a sparkling adornment which can be placed in perfect array by a single swipe of the wash cloth. It does not ruffle in the wind, collects neither dandruff nor burrs, and needs no shampoo to keep it tidy.

* * *

A small baby is admired by all, when he is as bald as an egg, and nobody knocks his baldness or attempts to trick him out in a toupee. Many great lovers have been bald. Roberto Rosselini is on his last third of hairful head, and he got Ingrid Bergman. Charles Boyer is as shiny up top as a heliograph in full sunlight. Who needs hair to be fascinating?

I imagine a bald dame would be regarded as chic, if the bald ladies went to as much trouble to promote baldness as is spent on selling the girls a fresh deck of outlandish wardrobe every spring and fall. The shape of the average head is not unpleasant. It is sometimes round, sometimes flat, sometimes square and sometimes pointed, but what is wrong with spheres, plateaus, squares and peaks? When they put it into paintings and furniture, it gets by as modern design.

* * *

I see no reason why the guys with a primeval thatch growing clean down to their eyebrows should sneer at us fellows with the high, intellectual foreheads, the nicely tanned or nicely pink or nicely freckled scalps. A man with hair can buy no more coffee for his dime than a man without. Hair has no bearing on the strength of the arm, the capacity to handle six dry martinis, or the credit rating in Dun & Bradstreet.

Enough, I say, of this inferiority complex about becoming bald. To anything other than a female chiampanzee, us cueballs are probably the prettiest men alive.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Talks begin here today on the British dollar crisis. Taking part are some top officials of the United States, Canada and Britain.

What is the crisis? The British are running out of American dollars which they badly need for buying American goods. But—the British are not here looking for another loan.

The talks aim at this: to work out some way by which Britain won't have to use up so fast the dollars it has. No one expects a miracle solution.

At this moment the problem is to find a stop gap way of getting Britain out of its jam. How did it get into the jam? There is no single answer. There are a number of answers. Here are some:

* * *

Remember that the U. S. and Canada do business with dollars. Britain's money is the pound. When Americans and Canadians sell to the British, they want to be paid in dollars.

So, having dollars is part of Britain's life blood since she needs to buy more from U. S. and Canada than they have to buy from her.

Britain was short of dollars after the war, since it used up so many of them buying war supplies from us. The U. S. and Canada gave Britain loans. The U. S. even helped out with the Marshall plan.

But now Britain is running short of dollars again. Why? For one thing, Britain hasn't been selling enough goods to the dollar nations to get dollars with which to buy from them in turn.

Before the war, Britain had several prime ways of gathering in dollars. For instance:

* * *

1. It had a lot of holdings in the dollar countries, giving Britain a big and steady income in dollars. During the war, to scrape up dollars to buy huge supplies, Britain sold many of its American holdings.

Britons figure now that — if they hadn't had to sell those holdings — they'd be getting from them an income of around $2,000,000,000 a year. So, that's two billions Britain could use now but doesn't have.

2. It picked up a lot of revenue from it shipping. But much of that was shot to pieces in the war. So—another dollar source weakened.

3. Britain has not been self-sufficient. It has had to import to live. It ran the imported goods through its factories and then sold the manufactured items abroad at a profit to buy other things it needed. This gave the British dollars, too.

* * *

But a lot of Britain's factories were destroyed during the war, although now Britain's production is much above pre-war days. Yet—and this is important — British manufacturing methods are not so good as ours.

Much of its machinery it out of date and it costs more to make a lot of items than it does in this country. That's a stumbling block to selling British goods here.

The U. S.-Canadian and British trade is out of balance.

But something else has been using up Britain's dollar supply, also. Britain is linked with a lot of other countries in what is called the "Sterling Bloc."

* * *

The Bloc countries, including Britain, use the pound as their money in trading with one another. But, when they want to buy from the U. S., they need dollars. Where have they been getting the dollars? A big chunk of them frim Britain.

Why from Britain, if Britain is short of dollars herself? During the war, when Britain needed dollars so badly, it worked out a deal with its partners in the Sterling Bloc.

Instead of paying them off in dollars for the things it bought from them, it gave them credit for dollars to be drawn on later. So now, when one of them wants to buy from America, it tells Britain to shell out dollars.

By the end of 1946 Britain had about $2½ billion in dollar reserves.

Now its supply is around $1,600,000,000. The British figure they need a minimum of $2,000,000,000 to be on safe ground.

Weird, picturesque rock formations are to be found near Jamestown, N. Y. Looking like ancient ruins, they were formed by warping of the earth's crust at the end of the Ice Age.

NEW YORK (AP)—It is much easier today to wwin the Kentucky Derby than it is to become Miss America.

All a horse has to do to cinch the derby is to run fastest. And it can use all four legs.

But it doesn't have to prove it can ride a human being, sing a folk song, paint a picture, look well in bathing suit and evening gown, do a tap dance or give Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

The average racehorse isn't even sure Lincoln ever had an address in Gettysburg.

* * *

But to win the Atlantic City beauty contest now a girl not only has to show derby form — she has to demonstrate personality, talent and intelligence. And she goes through a more rigorous training routine than the average derby entrant. She may even have to eat oats (oatmeal) to slim her figure.

Many of the lassies competing this week for the nation's $5,000 beauty crown at the Jersey resort spent a week or two in Manhattan getting a final curry-combing. They hire specialists to teach them how to walk gracefully and use makeup artfully.

"I've tramped miles up and down my hotel room learning all over again how to walk," said brown-haired, 18-year-old Miss Arkansas — Barbara Brothers, bust 34, waist 23, hips 34. She would like to have a rubber face.

"Mine is all worn out from smiling," she said.

* * *

Miss Brothers, besides looking beautiful, can sing, paint water colors, and write poetry. If she wins, she said she would positively reject any Hollywood offers.

"I want to become director of religious education for the Methodist church," she said.

She is sponsored by the Eastern Arkansas Young Men's club.

Another candidate, "Miss Wyoming"—Esther MacLeod, 22, bust 34, waist 25, hips 34, spent the last few days before the contest studying at the Barbizon school of modeling. Sponsored by the University of Wyoming, she is a mezzo soprano and wants to continue her study of music.

Eastern beauty techniques have left Miss MacLeod a little bemused.

"The hardest thing I had to learn was to put lipstick on with a brush," she laughed. "You get a finer lip line that way—they say."

* * *

Miss Wyoming, who arrived with Stetson hat and cowboy boots is a water safety instructor and can play the piano as well as sing.

"I can also rope, tie and brand a calf—a small calf,' she said.

Unfortunately, even if she borrowed a horse (Miss Montana brought one) and the Hereford Heifer that accompanied Miss Nevada, she wouldn't be able to demonstrate this talent.

Calf or heifer branding isn't on the contest program—which puts the girls from the west, where women are women, under a handicap.

Miss Arkansas will be one of the few entrants with a claque—three university of Arkansas students who decided to go to Atlantic City and root for her.

One is Bob Riley, an almost sightless war veteran who also is a member of the Arkannsas legislature.

"Bob is real fun," said Mrs. Tom Allen, chaperon for Miss Arkansas. "Once, during a night out, he lost his glass eye. So he put an ad in the university paper saying:

"'Lost one glass eye—probably bloodshot.'"

England's experiment with Socialist government is headed for a stormy showdown in the next general election, which will determine whether the country wishes to continue the regime or return to the old system of free enterprise on which the greatness of the empire was built.

The Labor (socialist) government which came to power in July of '45 would have a normal life of five years—that is, until summer. However, England's economic crisis has reached such a grave pass that it's anybodys guess whether it will get better or worse. This confronts the Socialist leaders with the problem of whether to hang on until the end of their term—in hope of improvement—or to force an early election on the chance that things are better now than they will be later.

* * *

That decision must hinge largely on crystal gazing. Much will depend on the outcome of the British-Canadian-American conference opening in Washington today to seek a solution of John Bull's predicament. If relief can be devised, the socialist political chances might be improved.

Englands' socialist leaders are under no delusions about the political dangers ahead. Both Sir William Lawther, president of the Great British Trade Union Congress, and James Griffiths, chairman of the Labor party, warned the annual conference of the T.U.C. Monday that Socialism is facing a tough fight.

* * *

This blunt warning was aimed at wildcat strikes which have been complicating the economic crisis. Both leaders declared labor might lose the next general election if it didn't stay on the job. Sir William asserted that some work stoppages have been instigated by Communists.

So Britain's socialist leaders are worried—and for good reason. Things haven't worked out as they anticipated when they took office. Economic difficulties, which they inherited as the result of the war, have gone from bad to worse.

* * *

Inevitably there has arisen the searching question of whether the situation has worsened because of socialist policies or whether the same misfortune would have dogged the conservatives if they had been continued in power.

That's a question which the voters certainly will want answered.

Kell and Slaughter Challenge Williams and Jackie Robinson

CHICAGO (AP)—If Boston's Ted Williams is looking over his shoulder in the American League batting race, he will find Detroit's George Kell coming strong. The Bengal third-sacker last week picked up eight points on Thumpin' Teddy.

While Williams skidded six points to .353, Kell inched up two points to .341. The previous week, Williams held a 20-point margin which now has melted to 12.

Kell is Williams' only barrier to a third straight batting crown and Ted's fifth since 1941. Third with .320 is Bob Dillinger of St. Louis.

Other leaders through Monday's games included Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .318; Dale Mitchell, Cleveland, .313; Cass Michaels, Chicago, .307; Johnny Pesky, Boston, .306; and Vic Wertz of Detroit Vern Stephens of Boston, and Roy Sievek of St. Louis, all tied at .302.

Boston's Ellis Kinder was the pitching leader with a .783 percentage on an 18-5 record.

NEW YORK (AP)—Enos (Country) Slaughter, of the St. Louis Cardinals, a throwback to Cardinal Gas House Gang days of 1934, today was seriously challenging Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson for the National League batting title.

Robinson is but six points in front of Slaughter. Jackie is moving at a .318 gait, including games of Labor Day. Slaughter is hard on his heels at .342.

Stan Musial, who with Slaughter forms the Cards' one-two punch, tacked five points to his mark to increase his average from .321 to .326, third best in the circuit.

Trailing Musial are the New York Giants' Willard Marshall, Bobby Thomson and Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner. Marshall is socking .315 and Thomson and Kiner .306.

Three of the remaining four in the top 10 are Cardinals. Ed Kazak, rookie Card third sacker, ranks seventh with a .304 mark.

Whitey Lockman of the Giants and Nippy Jones of the Cards are tied for ninth place with .300 averages. Red Schoendienst of the Cards is tenth, a point below the charmed circle, at .299.

San Diego Brings Sluggers to Town for Big Hollywood Series

By the Associated Press

The collective eyes of the Pacific Coast league will turn tonight to the opening of Hollywood's series with San Diego.

The Stars hold a three game lead over Oakland with but 20 games left.

San Diego, loaded with sluggers, promises to be a tough one for the Stars. The Padres are in fifth place and that means they'll be fighting for a place in league playoffs.

Oaks and Solons

The Oaks tangle with Sacramento, a team which was in strong contention until the holiday weekend when the Stars beat them five times straight. The Solons now are tied with Seattle for third place, eight games behind. Unless they bounce back, the Solons should give the rampaging Oaks some help in the win column.

There was only one game in the loop Tuesday night. Dr. Francis Dierickx Portland's home game pitcher, scattered seven hits to San Francisco batsmen to win 7-4. The doc treats medical patients when not dishing out bitter pills to opposing batters. The Beavers Dick Wenner hit two homers. Frank Shofner and Dario Lodigiani homered for the Seals.

Tonight's Games

Tonight's card and probable pitchers:

San Diego (Jess Flores 16-10) at Hollywood (Glen Moutder 12-8).

Sacramento (Mal Mallette 4-4 at Oakland (Earl Jones 10-8).

Los Angeles (Lee Anthony 6-19) at Portland (Hal Saltzman 19-12).

San Francisco (Al Lien 16-14) at Seattle (Herman Besse 7-16).

Beau Jack Wins Over Martinez

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Beau Jack, the Spoiler, heads for Chicago today to continue his comeback campaign in an important fistic duel with Cuba's Kid Gavilan.

The former world lightweight champ leaves the west coast having ruined the hitherto unsullied records of two young California boxers.

Last night the 28-year-old Jack handed Tote Martinez of Stockton a 10-round beating at the Olympic auditorium. It was Martinez' first loss in 28 professional appearances.

The colorful former Georgia bootblack snapped the winning streak of Johnny Gonsalvez in Oakland last Wednesday.

Martinez put up a game scrap but couldn't escape the variety of lefts and rights thrown to his head and body. He had an edge in the second round, aided by a couple of unintentional low blows. However, Jack staggered him in the seventh and was carrying the attack, in front by a wide margin, in the final round.

Jack weighed 139 and Martinez 140¾.

In the early rounds, Jack apparently weakened the tough Mexican boy with his broadsides and hooks to the midsection. Martinez absorbed all of Jack's punches without going down, but even his youth could not withstand the New Yorker's constant aggressiveness.

Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankees outfielder, crosses home plate in Shibe Park, Philadelphia after he belted a grand slam home run against the Philadelphia Athletics, driving in three fellow players. Waiting to greet DiMaggio, whose grand slam was his 13th of the season, are Vic Raschi (7) and Phil Rizzuto (10). The A's catcher is Joe Astroth. Other players are not identified. (AP Wirephoto)

Upland Meets Argonaut Nine

Upland's entry in the San Bernardino Junior League "Little World Series" tangles with the Berdoo Argonauts tonight in the first of a two-out-of-three series.

Getting under way at 8 p.m. in Perris Hill park, the Upland-Argonaut game will be a renewal of a growing grudge battle that has been off and on all season.

The Argonauts beat the Upland nine to cop the first half playoff but the Upland boys came back strong and took the second half title.

Either Jack Roper or Lefty Lulf is expected to draw the hurling assignment for Upland.

Five Squads of Panthers Get First Taste of Scrimmage

By Don Benson

The Chaffey Panthers had their first real taste of football as Coach George Hobbs gave them a hard hour and a half workout, before a fair sprinkling of football filberts last night.

Lining up five different squads following a snappy session of calisthenics led by assistant Jack White, Hobbs ran several off tackle plays, against the blocking dummies to teach the players their assignments, etc.

Bernie Hoyos, in the team picked first by the headman, looked very good, and in excellent shape, too. He has added about five or eight pounds since last season.

SHOLES HEAVIER

Ray Sholes, the lanky lad from Alhambra, has added about 15 pounds, and looks as if it hasn't hurt him any, running with sureness that appeared to be absent last year.

Jim Densmore, the former Tiger flash, looked very good, and also appeared to have nudged the Fairbanks harder than last year, as does Cookie Orsburn, the hard running back, who is reported to be around 205.

Sherman Hall, the 235 tackle from Alhambra, who played for Hobbs in '42, '43, and '45, appears able to take care of himself, which is probably an under-statement. Hall has spent the in-be-tween years in Uncle Sam's Army.

SHINES AT END

Stu Compton, another Hobbs-coached high school player back in '45, played halfback for the Army in Japan, before returning home. He also shines at end, where he is working out now.

LeRoy Anderson, the all-Kansas end, reported for his first workout, and when asked how he liked the local setup, said he thought it was fine. He tips the scales at 195, and stands 6-2. He should make the Panthers a good end.

There was other boys who looked very good, and by the time Hobbs sends them out to face East L. A. J. C. September 23, the P's and Q's should start to show profit.

Henry Marquez, the shifty running quarterback from last year's Chaffey Tigers, hurt his knee slightly while running dummy scrimmage, for the only evening's casualties, outside of the usual sore muscles and legs.

Another of the same is in store for the Panthers tonight, at 7:30.

Big Leagues Vote To Keep Bonus

CINCINNATI (AP) — Major league baseball has voted against repealing the bonus rule, the office of Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler announced today.

Walter Mulbry, secretary-treasurer of baseball, said: "The amendment to Major and Major-Minor League Rule E (f), the bonus rule, on which a mail vote from the major league clubs was requested August 25, failed of passage."

The amendment, which had been approved by the major league executive committee, would have set aside provisions of the bonus rule for the new crop of players, but would have kept them in effect for three years for those players already covered.

Mulbry told newsmen the amendment, "perhaps with modifications," would be on the agenda for the joint major league meeting in December.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Association, will not request minor leagues to vote on the amendment, considering the action of the major leagues, Mulbry said.

He declined to say how each of the 16 major league clubs voted.

Briefly, the bonus rule provides that a player, paid more than $5,000 to sign a major, AAA or AA league contract, may not be farmed out without waivers. The bonus amount for Class B clubs is $4,500, and for B, C and D clubs, $3,000.

Under an amendment, effective March 31, 1949, bonus players now signed may be optioned for one year by a club which buys or otherwise obtains their contract from the original assignor.

Sport-O-graph

DON BENSON

The football season has just opened; that is the school variety. And writers everywhere are burning the mid-night oil trying to pick winners before the ball is hardly blown-up for use. The coaches, who have to scan some 60 to 90 players, many he has never seen before, are no doubt a little in the dark, too, until they have had more time and chance to observe their charges under-fire.

We defy anyone to say what a team can be expected to do by looking at it the first time they are out for practice. We well remember the first time we saw the Chaffey Panthers when they started football in full-force after the war. We remember that the new coach, Ray Rosso, who no one had hardly heard of, addressed his players, met for a watermelon feed before the season got under way. Rosso made it plain that the Panther would get "the works," starting the next week, and that football games would be won or lost on the practice fields. He kept his word, too, working the tail-end off them.

The first time we saw the squad in uniform at a practice session we wondered what held together the new string-bean quarterback from El Monte. We never heard of Jack Nixon, another El Monte boy who was playing at end. Chet Nicholson, another raw-boned youngster from Corona, looked unimpressive as all-get-out. Bob Sachs filled out his suit o.k., but didn't look tall enough for a end.

Then they played the Pasadena College in the Rose Bowl, to open the season, and won 13 to 12, if we remember correctly. Then they whipped a few more teams, and the guys who didn't look so sharp to our inexperienced orbs, suddenly became great football players. The string-bean T-quarterback, Anse McCullough, took on polish, along with the rest of the players mentioned. Sachs looked lots taller as he slashed into the enemy backfield. We found out that Chet Nicholson could stretch like an India-rubber man to catch passes, that Nixon was a tough customer at end.

So, let's not be rushing things, in trying to find out how good or bad this year's Panthers will be. Let's wait till after they play a few games, and have a few scrimmages, before we place ourselves out on the limb. Besides, we want to put you off just as long as possible being wrong.

Rodney Tops Field of 30 Trotters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Headed by Rodney, the 1948 trotter of the year, a field of 30 top horses has been sustained for the $50,000 Golden West Trot on November 19 at Hollywood Park.

"Sustained" is a term in harness racing which means the owners have paid a second fee of $200 to assure the Western Harness Racing Association that the entry is still a candidate for a race.

Other two-minute horses sustained include Proximity, Egan Hanover, both of whom have beaten Rodney this year, and Full Bloom.

Yankees and Red Sox In Crucial 3 Game Series

By Ralph Roden, Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees, leading the American league since the opening gun, face their severest test of the season tonight when they open a three-game series with the challenging Boston Red Sox at Yankee stadium.

Casey Stengel's crippled Yanks lead the sizzling Sox by a game and a half and a Boston sweep would dump the Yanks into second place.

Stengel selected Allie Reynolds (13-4) to face Ellis Kinder (18-5) before an estimated 75,000 plus crowd.

8 Game Streak

Kinder, who never won more than ten games in the majors until this season, is working on an eight game winning streak.

The return to action of Joe DiMaggio and possibly Catcher Yogi Berra greatly enhances the Yankee chances. DiMaggio bowed out of the second game in the Labor Day doubleheader in Philadelphia because of leg cramps but the jolter reported the ailment has disappeared.

The equally tense National league race finds the front-running St. Louis Cardinals only one game ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Don Newcombe, big Negro right-hander, pitched the Dodgers to a 10-2 win last night for the Boston Braves. The Cards, the Chicago Cubs and the entire American league were idle.

Fans Seven

Newcombe, in bagging his 15th triumph, yielded only six hits and fanned seven to run his league-leading strikeout total to 126.

The Dodger ace's string of consecutive scoreless innings was snapped at 31 when the Braves scored the first run of the game in the second inning.

Brooklyn bounced back in its half of the second to sew up the game, whacking Bill Voiselle for five runs.

AUTO CLUB'S
TRIP OF THE WEEK

Upper San Luis Obispo County

This week's loop tour through the upper San Luis Obispo County is a natural for motorists seeking to observe some of California's richest agricultural and cattle country. The trip, as outlined on the map, is a delightful six-hour journey, which allows ample opportunity for one to stop and visit a few of the historically-important points of interest along the course.

1. San Luis Obispo, incorporated in 1856, is the county seat. This town grew up around Mission San Luis Obispo de Tolosa . . .

2. Atascadero, rimmed by a semi-circle of wooded hills, was conceived in 1913 as a model community, designed on paper to conform to uniform architectural standards and laid out on a scale large enough to accommodate a metropolis. Following the failure of this enterprise, the town eventually found salvation in its chicken and turkey raising. Lower photo shows nearby Atascadero Lake . . .

3. The rolling hills around Paso Robles are still dotted with the great spreading oaks that led early Spanish explorers to name the place El Paso de los Robles. However, its almond trees are now more famous, for the town is surrounded by large almond acreages. Long noted for its hot springs, Paso Robles boasts of a Municipal Bath House, which is built over the main sulphur spring . . .

4. Of all the California missions, the church at Mission San Miguel is probably the most unspoiled and many of the original interior decorations of early Indian artists still are clearly visible (center photo). Indian relics and implements are displayed in the adjoining quarters . . .

5. Top photo shows typical scene along the stretch between San Miguel and Pozo, which is principally cattle country. In the southwestern part of Carrizo Plain rises a lonely sandstone butte known as Painted Rock. Along the walls are a number of crude aboriginal paintings in bright colors, representing men, birds, suns and other undecipherable figures. This place is believed to have been an ancient temple . . .

6. Watch out for the sharp hairpin turns as the course twists up the wild, wooded slopes of the La Panza Range. South of Santa Margarita is the Cuesta Pass over which John C. Fremont led his small army in 1848 to attack the town of San Luis Obispo.

Chief Swinney Says:

Traffic Perils Come as School Opens Again

School opens again next week in Ontario, and with the opening will come the usual traffic hazards.

Chief Swinney of Ontario

I would like to remind motorists that the 15 - mile - an hour speed limits will once more be in order when passing a school. Many drivers have gotten used to higher speeds during the summer vacations and will have to re-accustom themselves to the need for slower speeds in school zones.

Children will be on the streets in large numbers now before and after school. The younger children have not yet learned the rules of traffic safety and will undoubtedly be darting into the streets unexpectedly creating another hazard.

I would also like to remind high school and college boys that Ontario has ordinances prohibiting hitch-hiking. These regulations were put into effect after several serious and near serious mishaps resulting from hitch-hiking.

There are regular buses operating to and from Chaffey for students who live too far from the campus. It might be a little bit inconvenient to make use of them in some cases, but not as inconvenient as a serious accident.

As far as school buses go, motorists should remember that the state law requires that motorists are required to wait until a school bus has discharged all its passengers and started up again before passing.

All Accidents Not On Hiways

All West End accidents over Labor Day weren't on the highway.

Sharon Zachary, 6, 601 East 11th street, Upland, was treated for a dog bite on the left hand Monday at San Antonio Community hospital. She was dismissed the same night and Upland police notified the neighbor to keep the dog penned.

In an auto accident on Mills avenue north of Baseline road, Mrs. Emma Bamback, 63, suffered contusions of chest and knee. She was treated Sunday at San Antonio hospital and dismissed.

A fistful of knuckles left Arlo Sole, 19, Route 2, Chino, with a cut lip. He was treated and dismissed Monday night from San Antonio hospital. What happened to the other guy was not available for publication.

Tumbling down Mt. Baldy proved painful for Stanley Heidanus, 23, 171 North Encinitas street, Monrovia. Heidanus fell down a hill while Labor Daying at Snow Crest and rolled right onto the doctor's table at San Antonio Community hospital.

He was treated Sunday for a fractured right arm and cuts and bruises about the head, face and body.

GREENER PASTURES GROW

BERKELEY, Cal., — Irrigated pastures in California have increased from nothing to almost 600,000 acres in the past 20 years, according to the University of California.

Safety Patrol on Guard as School Bells Ring

As schools reopen this fall for America's 8,000,000 children a vast army of safety patrol boys, 350,000 strong, will help law enforcement agencies protect them from the traffic dangers at street crossings. This typical picture shows patrol boy permitting children to cross on their way to school while traffic has stopped.

Olds Assembly Hits New Mark For Production

All monthly production records for the past 52 years were shattered at the Oldsmobile division, when the last new Oldsmobile produced in August, 1949, rolled off the assembly line Wednesday, S. E. Skinner, vice-president of General Motors corporation and general manager of Oldsmobile announced today.

A total of 31,095 new Futuramic Oldsmobiles were built last month, Skinner stated. This record monthly output surpassed the previous top mark of 28,445 units built in March, 1941. A new daily average record of 1,351 cars per working day was also set, Skinner said, thus providing Oldsmobile dealers across the nation with more new cars for delivery than ever before in the history of America's oldest motor car manufacturer.

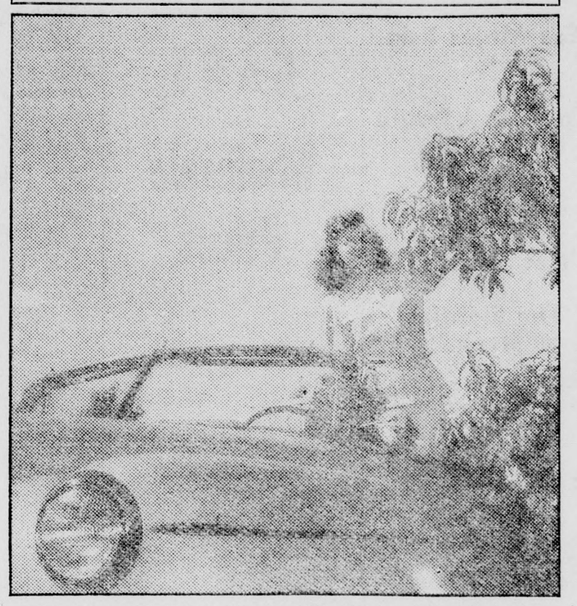

"The record month of production at Oldsmobile places this division that much nearer an all-time record in output for the model year," Skinner said. "During the past month Oldsmobile division produced its 200,000th 1949 model, marking the first time in the post-war period that this goal was reached. Maintenance of the present rate of output means that this division will produce approximately 300,000 six and eight-cylinder cars this year, thus setting an all-time record.

Despite all-out efforts to keep pace with demand for new Oldsmobiles, particularly the Series "88" and "98" models equipped with the new high-compression "Rocket" engine, Oldsmobile production is still trailing sales, Skinner said. He pointed out that 63 per cent of the total August production was devoted to new Oldsmobiles powered by the sensational new eight-cylinder Rocket engine introduced by Oldsmobile division a year ago this month.

"As far as this division of General Motors corporation is concerned, we have not experienced any softening of the market to date. On the contrary, demand is so insistent for all three series of Oldsmobiles, including the Series 76 model with the Big Six engine, that we are now expanding the capacity of our Rocket engine plant, building a new final assembly plant, and increasing our working force to take advantage of the gratifying upsurge in demand for our product."

Queen of Peach Festival

When it's peach time in the rich fruit district of Michigan, visitors from every section of the country flock to the colorful climax of the harvest season in the city of Romeo known as the Romeo Peach Festival. Queen of the gala 1949 Peach Festival was lovely Barbara Greene pictured standing in a Chevrolet convertible as she selects the finest of the orchard for a special gift basket destined for delivery to the White House in Washington.

Chief Mueller Says

Use Caution, Yield Way to Pedestrians

It is amazing to see the courtesy extended to pedestrians by auto drivers at our beaches.

Drivers who seldom give a pedestrian an even break at home, seem to go out of their way while at the beach to allow pedestrians the right of way.

Chief Mueller of Upland

That courtesy is something we could well use here at home. While on my vacation recently, I was impressed by Upland and Ontario drivers being so courteous and observing good driving rules at the beach.

Why can't we carry some of that good driving sense back from the beaches to our own city streets?

The driver of a vehicle must yield the right of way to a pedestrian crossing the roadway within any marked crosswalk or within any unmarked crosswalk. This is just plain common sense. A person walking has no chance against the steel and iron of a moving automobile.

Also it would be wise to remember that when a vehicle has stopped at a marked or unmarked crosswalk to permit a pedestrian to cross the roadway that the driver of any other auto approaching from the rear must not overtake and pass the stopped vehicle.

By observing these two simple rules of safe driver conduct, we will make the streets a safer place for pedestrians.

Collects Old Type

BOSTON — Thomas J. Lyons, printer, has a collection of more than 1,000 old type fonts turned out between 1830 and 1890. He said he isn't worried about his hobby going stale on him and is still hunting for some 27,000 other fonts.

'Nature Girl' Held For Slaying Father

SANDPOINT, Ida. —A tiny, 15-year-old "nature girl" yesterday was charged with first degree murder in the hammer-slaying of her father, 67-year-old Charles Burns.

Charlotte Burns, described by officers as wise to the ways of birds, animals and trees, was held in Bonner County jail here.

Prosecutor Robert E. McFarland said the girl was charged in order that she might be held while an investigation of the Saturday murder is made.

McFarland said a preliminary examination would be held tomorrow instead of an inquest originally scheduled. At that time the charge may be changed, he said.

Red Cross in Field

WASHINGTON — Red Cross officials revealed that more than 2,000 field workers currently are serving the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps at 1,286 military installations and 128 military hospitals in this country and abroad.

Truckers, Commercial Operators Fail to Comply With Auto Laws

Failure of trucking concerns and other commercial operators of motor vehicles to comply with revised provisions of the Financial Responsibility Law is endangering registration of their vehicles, Motor Vehicles Director A. H. Henderson said today.

Instructions to suspend the registration of motor vehicles are being prepared in several instances where the employer failed to take cognizance of his responsibilities, Henderson said.

1949 revisions to the Financial Responsibility Law, which became effective July 7, provide that in cases where an employee is operating a motor vehicle owned, operated or leased by his employer and with the employer's permission, it is the employer's responsibility to make a financial responsibility report of an accident to the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The law allows the driver five days from the date of the accident to report to his employer. The employer then must report to the department within 10 days or a total of 15 days from the date of the accident.

The only exceptions are made with respect to:

1. Vehicles owned by the United States, this State or any political subdivision or municipality of this State.

2. Employers who have filed with the department a certificate or an insurance carrier or bonding company to the effect that there was a liability policy or bond for the required amounts in effect with respect to the motor vehicle involved. This known as an Employer's Insurance Certificate. Forms are obtainable from the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento.

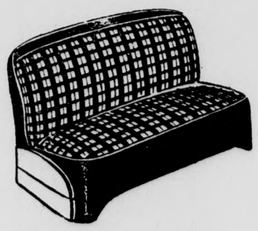

3. Self-insurers who have been issued a certificate of self-insurance by the department.
